Guide for examiners

October 2026

Contents: Your exam dates · One exam's list

When your school registers students for exams in Wise Timetable, you see who is registered for each exam you examine, print the list with a signature column, and take presence with the attendance code you already use for lessons.

Your exam dates

Sign in on your school's timetable web as for booking or attendance, and open /exams (for example wise-tt.com/web/<school>/exams). Exam lists lists every date that names you as an examiner, from a week back, with how many students are registered.

One exam's list

- Open a date: the registered students with their enrolment numbers, how many seats the rooms have, and who withdrew.

- Print the list opens a sheet with a column to sign in and three empty lines for anyone who comes without registering - the student office decides about them afterwards.
- Take presence takes you to attendance: open the exam there like any lesson and show the code. Afterwards the list shows who was present, late or did not attend.

The list by e-mail the day before

Where your school switches it on, you get the list by e-mail the day before the exam, at the time the school chose, to the address on your lecturer record. If it does not arrive, ask the student office whether that address is right - and you can always open the list here. Registering or withdrawing a student is the student office's; tell them if a list looks wrong.
